The C. Salvatore Celebrated Their 50th Wedding Anniversary

Over 100 friends called on Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Salvatore, Pahokee pioneer residents, at their home, 1331 Bacom Point Rd., Saturday, Dec. 9, to offer congratulations on their 50th wedding anniversary. The open house in celebration of their golden wedding anniversary was from 4 to 8 p. m. with their children Mr. and Mrs. Jack Paulette of Tampa, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hodges of Belle Glade, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Herron of Ft. Lauderdale and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Salvatore of Pahokee, hosts.

Also present were grandchildren of the honorees: Carmen Salvatore, III, Elaine Salvatore, Woodie Salvatore, Susan Salvatore, Jack, Paulette, Jr., Patricia Paulette, Ronald Hodges and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Tucker; and one great grandchild, Kristy Tucker.

Mrs. Salvatore chose for the happy event a street-length aqua dress and a deep yellow orchid corsage. Mr. Salvatore wore a yellow carnation boutonniere.

The refreshments table, laid with ecru lace over a yellow cloth, had at the center a large and gorgeous bouquet of yellow rose buds. On either side of the roses were double crystal candle holders bearing gold tapers and tied with large green orchid bows at the base.

The beautiful three-tiered anniversary wedding cake was touched with miniature gold bells and was topped with a golden "50" emblem. The crystal punch bowls were encircled with gold-tinted fern and gold satin balls, and crystal compotes were used for the serving of the yellow mint.

Miss Elaine Salvatore was in charge of the guest book. The hostesses, who wore yellow hibiscus corsages, were assisted by Mrs. John T. Pickett, who arranged the decorations; also by Mrs. Lloyd Hundley. Among out of town guests were Mrs. Salvatore's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Herring, of Fort Mead, Mrs. Ernestine Herring from Bartow.

Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore were married in Miami on Dec. 9, 1917. Previously he had come to Miami in 1915 from Newark, N. J., as a stone cutter, joining other artisans from all over the world who had been called to Miami by James Deering to build his fabulous estate, Vizcaya. Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore moved from Miami to Pahokee in August, 1918, making their home in a small cottage on Bacom Point Road quite a way farther southwest of the house where they now live, which they have occupied for the past 40 years.

Soon after their arrival in Pahokee their first child was born, Aug. 24, the late Carmen Salvatore, Jr., who was one of the first white children born from all over the world who had been called to Miami by James Deering to build his fabulous estate, Vizcaya.

Mr. Salvatore has been engaged in the vegetable farming business ever since coming to the Glades, but has also been quite active in civic affairs. For 16 years he represented the Glades area as a member of the Palm Beach County Board of Public Instruction. He has served as a member of the Pahokee City Council, as a member of local drainage board and similar civic activities. He is a World War I veteran.

As pioneers who came to the Pahokee area when it was little more than a wilderness of custard apple and elderberry shrubs and moon vines, the Salvatores must have a feeling of quiet satisfaction that they have been participants in the transformation of this black muckland wilderness into one of the richest and most highly developed agricultural areas in the world all in the short span of 50 years.

BIRTHS
Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Tate are proud to announce they have adopted a baby boy born November 16, 1967, weight 7 lbs. They have named their little son, David.

Fishing was hot in the Belle Glade area over the week-end. All the fishermen came in with fish, and even SLIM brought in a nice string of Bass on Friday.

Bass fishing has been best in the Pelican Bay area, with specks still hitting in the canal.

The following catches were reported to Slim's Fish Camp:
Jimmy Taylor and Jess Cockrell, Belle Glade, caught 8 bass up to 6 pounds on Saturday.

Mr. Whitey Merrill and grandson of Ft. Lauderdale caught 10 bass on Saturday. Two of these went 8 pounds. George Goforth and party, Belle Glade, brought in 5 bass Saturday up to 4 pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gilliam, Belle Glade, caught 8 bass up to 5 pounds on Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. Gav Thompson, Miami, had 7 bass on Sunday. The largest of their stringer weighed 7 pounds.

Pellon Morris and Wayne Tullis, Belle Glade, caught 73 specks on Saturday. Tullis returned again Sunday with a near limit catch.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Leggs, Belle Glade, caught 60 specks on Saturday. Roscoe slipped out alone on Sunday, and came in with a near limit catch.

Col. C. Carmichael, Verbeia, Ala., brought in 25 specks on Friday morning, and 25 on Friday afternoon.

Good fishing is expected to continue through out this week, and all those rods and reels Santa has in his pack should really come in handy over the holidays.

We would like to wish everyone a very merry Christmas, and a happy and prosperous New Year from all the Corbines.

Slim's Fish Camp

Bass are hitting and so are the specks! Now is the time to catch 'em!

Emory Lindsley, West Palm Beach brought in a 10 1/2 lb. bass on a gold shiner Saturday.

Bud Fisher and D. A. Davis caught 20 nice size bass on Friday morning, but Bud brought in the big one 9 1/2 lb. bass.

Paul Wentink caught 8 bass Tuesday up to 7 lbs.
Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gueatas from Lake Worth got 75 specks Tuesday.

Bob Fitch from Ft. Lauderdale got the limit in specks on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Dempsey from Hollywood brought in 10 bass on Monday up to 5 1/2 lbs.
Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tillman of West Palm Beach caught 12 bass Friday.

Elmer Dunaway caught bass, going out for a short time, several times during the day and caught several 4 and 5 pounders.

TO PROTECT PEOPLE WHO WORK
In excessively noisy environments, such as at airports or in heavy industry, many companies now insist that men wear ear muffs or plugs.

The Florida Sugar Industry employs 13,000 workers and has an annual payroll in excess of $30 million, says Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association.

Tea Honors Mary Mathewson

The lovely and spacious home of Mrs. Edward F. Allen was the setting for a tea honoring Miss Mary Mathewson, bride-to-be, from 3 to 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

The rooms were attractively decorated throughout with beautiful arrangements of red poinsettias with red lighted candles, and twinkling Santa Clause lights. The Christmas tree in the alcove with blue ornaments also carried out the festive Yule theme.

The bride-elect, her mother, Mrs. Jack Mathewson, Mrs. W. W. Weeks, mother of the bridegroom-elect and Mrs. Allen all wore corsages made by Mrs. Irvin Zampf. Mary's was a white carnations with silver ribbon and the others were red carnations with white ribbon.

Covered with a white lace cloth over red, the table was centered with a red poinsettia arrangement with one large lighted red candle. Smaller ones were on each end with silver holders and lighted red candles. Silver compotes and trays held nuts, mints and dairy cakes. Mrs. Richard Murray presided at the silver coffee service.

The honoree received lovely and useful gifts. The Women of the Church, Everglades Presbyterian, hostesses for the occasion presented her with a beautiful footed silver tray.

Gove PTA Hears Chorus

With the girls wearing bright red dresses and the boys wearing red ties, the Belle Glade High School Chorus, under the direction of Randy Wing, accompanied by Mrs. Karen Corbin entertained the Gove Elementary PTA last Monday night in the high school cafeteria.

A gay Christmas spirit prevailed when the group presented "Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer" and "Angels We Have Heard on High."

Rev. M. W. Sindle of the Church of God gave the invocation.

Christmas refreshments were served by Mrs. Jim Acklet, chairman, Mrs. Bob Clauser, Mrs. G. W. Smith and Mrs. Willford Markham.

The room count award was won by Mrs. Vic Zawadzki's fifth grade class.

Has Herald Never Noticed?

The letter below was received from a concerned citizen of Belle Glade. We disagree, but would like to here more views on either side expressed.

Editor: My New Year's wish is to see something anything! in The Herald about the air pollution in Belle Glade! Never have I seen an editorial, a letter or a news item about this problem. What does it mean? Have you never noticed, don't care, have stock in sugar or furfural, or are a little intimidated? The night we decide to cook out the smell seems to descend with a nauseating heaviness that drives us inside and the thought of eating leaves in a hurry.

How about getting off the "Peddler Crusade" that affects a small number of the citizens and crusade for clean air that affects the health of every person in the Glades?

Yes, But This Is What We Saw

Granted, one New Year's wish. To add icing to the cake, the above pictures is included. However, the question arises: Is it beautiful or ugly? We have no stock in sugar or furfural and before your letter, we did not put much stock in complaints about air pollution in the Glades. We have heard these complaints from coastal concerned citizens but seldom from those who live here. We have always thought of tolerating the smoke, ashes, and the smell, in the same light as counting stacks of dirty money. We wrinkle our noses, but really don't mind it.

When we see the first smoke of this season we know the cash registers are going to ring more often downtown. When the smoke ends, the slow summer begins. When peddlers are stopped, the same cash registers ring more often. Perhaps some may see this as affecting only a small number of citizens here but the truth of the matter is that the Glades economy is so intermingled that the downtown merchants ringing cash register is but one sign of a prospering community. The smoke in the air is another. We would hate to be without either.

Can clean air and the Glades economy go together? If so, we will aid in any way possible to attain that goal, but in our book, the economy gets priority rating.

Girl Scouts Will Hike On December 29

At the regular meeting of Girl Scout Troop 281, 32 members were present. Plans were made for a hike on the 29th, place to be decided on. The group will meet at Jameson Hall at 10:30 a.m. Teresa Harris has earned her badge on books and will receive it after Christmas. Following the close of the meeting the girls learned to do a folk dance.

Beta Sigma Phi Sorority Enjoys Christmas Ball

Beta Sigma Phi Sorority held its annual Christmas Ball at the Poultry Club, Saturday night, December 16th.

Neil Smith and his orchestra from West Palm Beach played for the gala affair. During the evening, he called on Mr. Milton Carpenter to sing the beautiful song "White Christmas" and Mr. Neil DePamphilis played a couple of numbers on the piano.

The white and gold theme was carried out in the decorations. On the tables were beautiful white feather trees with gold ornaments in the center and green holly with red berries on each side. There were white feather wreaths with gold ornaments on the walls. The decorations were made by the Iota Epsilon Chapter.

Three pledges from the Beta Xi Chapter were honored. They were Mrs. Ed Davis, Mrs. Thomas Hejia and Frank Teets (the latter being absent).

A late buffet supper was served to approximately 40 couples.

It's Christmas time again... may it be your merriest ever, with lasting joy and happiness.

PROTECTING The DOLLAR

By Thurman Sensing
EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

Southern States Industrial Council

In arguing for a tax increase, the Johnson administration in recent weeks has taken the position that it is needed as a signal to the world that the United States will fight inflation and will not go the way of Great Britain, which has devalued its money.

Certainly the U. S. should be signaling to other responsible countries that the dollar will be maintained at its present level. More importantly, people at home need to be reassured on this point. The U. S. government has a solemn duty to uphold the worth of the currency and not to destroy the value of savings and other financial holdings.

But what is the best way to signal this intention to people at home and abroad? Is a tax increase the best way? Thoughtful citizens may properly deny that a tax increase, without corresponding cuts in public spending, is an adequate signal.

The dollar is threatened for one reason, namely, because the U. S. government for a long period of years has been lending or giving away more money than it earns in revenue. It has been pumping money into wasteful projects overseas & at home. It has been estimated, for example that over $100 billion has been spent on foreign aid since the end of World War II. The Johnson administration, while allegedly concerned about the balance of payments, is continuing to support this kind of aid on a tremendous scale. India, for instance is virtually fed by the United States, which sends vast quantities of wheat to that country.

Yet this spending on free food to India has not done anything fundamental to help the Indians save themselves. The Indians, caught up in a tragic mess of curious religion and equally curious economics, have wasted what has been loaned or given by the United States. India's problems become more acute every month.

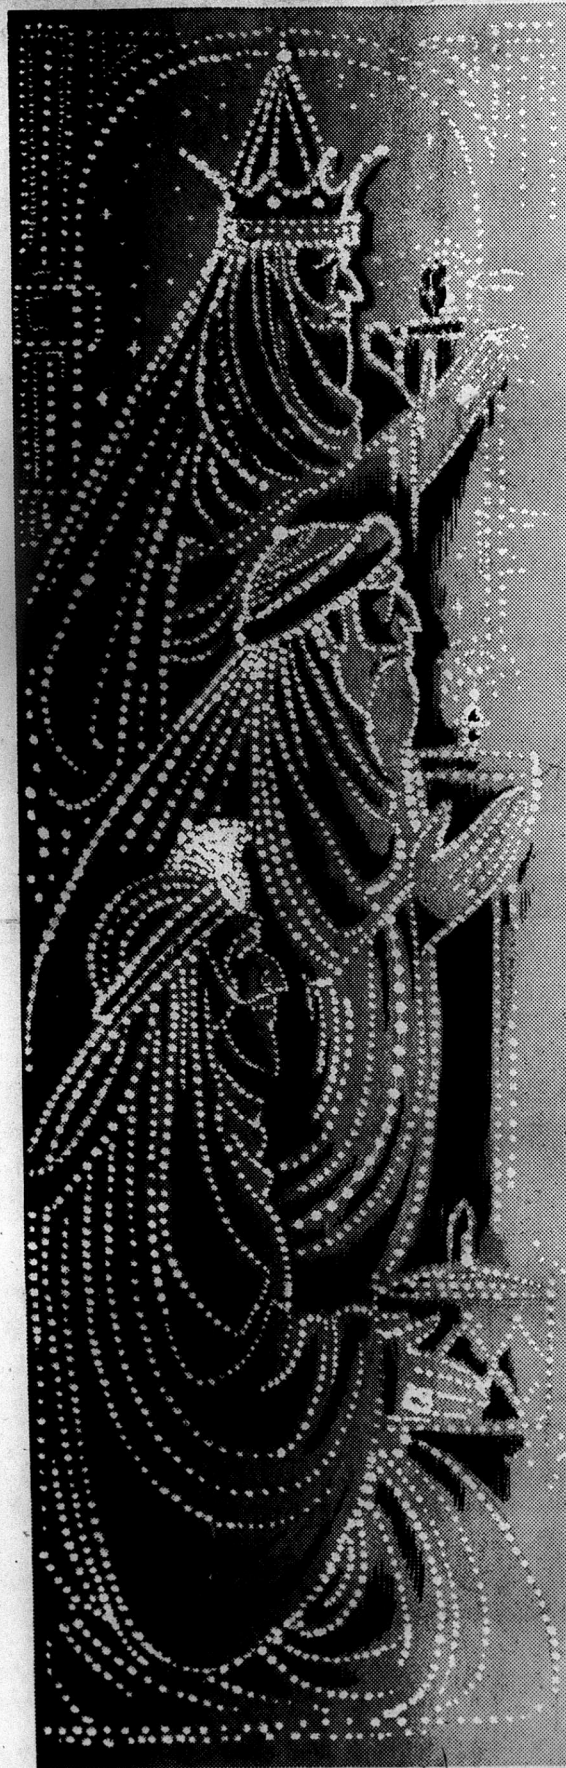

At the same time, the leaders of the Great Society are insisting that the War on Poverty must be escalated and that a vast financial appeasement operation must be conducted for those who are in a mood to riot in the nation's cities. Influential liberals call for a domestic Marshall Plan that will involve the spending of more billions of rebuilding of urban "ghetto" areas at government expense.

These expenditures, domestic and foreign, are undermining the value of the American dollar. The reason is that they are non-productive expenditures. Unlike money spent on building a new plant in the United States, the federal projects don't lead to any financial return for the American people. They constitute a form of blackmail of this nation, whereby money is spent simply to keep the restless from committing havoc.

The United States cannot afford to pay this kind of tribute forever. Rich as this nation is in material and human resources, its economy is not a bottomless well. Our society cannot get around basic economic laws. In our lifetime, we have seen the U. S. dollar devalued through unwisely federal spending from 100 cents on the dollar to less than 50 cents. The grim prospect is that a more direct and speedy form of devaluation may be required unless immediate action is taken to bring spending in line with the nation's income.

The burden of defense is an immense one. Yet the Congress can not get rid of this burden at a time when the enemies of freedom and the capitalist system are warring against the U. S. Thus the United States has fixed expenditures in the defense area that are inescapable. Reduction in public costs, designed to bolster domestic and foreign confidence in the dollar, has to come out of the innumerable non-essential spending items that have been added to the budget during the Kennedy and Johnson administrations.

We have seen the result of continuous spending of more than is received — as has been the case in the United States for 32 of the last 38 years — in two formerly great nations of the world in recent years. One of these nations, France, accepted a dictatorship. The other, Great Britain, accepted second — or third — ranking among nations, with still a very uncertain future.

And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts; gold, and frankincense, and myrrh. Matthew 2, 11.

Men Are Wise When They See What They Ought To Do, And Do It

By Lewis Llewellyn

How many wise men journeyed to the sleepy little town of Bethlehem to celebrate the birth of Jesus, on that long-ago day?

No one knows, really. The number three has been generally accepted, probably because there were three kinds of gifts presented to the new-born King — gold, frankincense, and myrrh.

But the three kinds of gifts could have been given by just two wise men — or by a larger number.

The Bible tells us only that "there came wise men from the east."

Took Long Trip

Their reputation as wise men was not based on the fact that they left their far away homes to go to see the Christ-child. Rather, because they were wise men they knew of this unusual event and determined not to pass up the opportunity to go and worship the One destined to become the greatest King in the history of the world.

Because He was born in the humblest of circumstances, the birth of Jesus was largely unnoticed by the world. A few shepherds, told of the event by rejoicing angels, visited the Babe who was lying in a manger. The wise men came a little later and found Jesus, with Mary His mother, in a house. But not many paid any attention to Him.

Unwise Man

Surely the most unwise man in Bethlehem on the night of Jesus' birth was the inn-keeper who told Joseph that there was no room in the inn for him and his wife.

How could he have known that Mary was about to give birth to the One Who would become King of Kings? Perhaps, if he had known he would have found room for the guests whom he turned away from the comfort of his lodging house.

Perhaps — but aren't there many today who know that the Christ merits their allegiance, that they ought to give Him first place in their lives, who yet fail to do what they know that they ought to do?

No Room?

Aren't there many today who still have no room for Christ?

The greatest Christmas gift was given nineteen centuries ago, when "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth on Him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

Have you received the gift that God wants you to have?

Wise men are still coming to the King. Are you among them?

Living Nativity Will Be Presented

A living Nativity will be presented by the members of the Community Methodist Church tonight and tomorrow night from 7:00 - 9:00 P. M. on the church lawn.

Some 20-25 persons will portray the members of the Holy Family, the Angels, the Shepherds, and the Wise Men who were witnesses to the First Christmas.

Baptist Juniors Hold Open House

Junior One Department of the First Baptist Church held its annual Christmas program and open house, Sunday afternoon, in its department. Thirteen Juniors presented the Christmas story in scripture and song, using the Gospel of St. Luke.

Grandparents, parents, relatives, friends, and former members of the Department were present for the occasion commemorating the birth of Jesus. It was a time of good fellowship.

Mr. Bill Ferguson, Associate Superintendent, conducted the musical part of the program with Miss Margaret Cross as pianist. The six other members of the staff assisted in the program.

Christmas punch and home baked cookies were served the program and open house.

forty-five guests and twenty members of the Department. The Lottie Moon love gift offering was the central theme. And the Department surpassed all previous years in contributions.

St. John's Special Service

A Christmas eve service and Midnight Mass will be held at St. John the Apostle Episcopal Church at 11 p. m. and a Christmas Day service will be conducted at 9 a. m.

At the midnight service and solemn mass there will be special music with five students participating under the direction of Howard Payne who will play trombone, Jack Payne, baritone; Joyce Brado, trumpet; Rickey Fessenden, baritone; Jimmy Altman, from home and Jimmy Winchester, baritone.

Miss Margie Townsend will be organist.

Food Producers Struggle For Livelihood

By Doyle Conner,
Commissioner of Agriculture

The poultry industry in Florida has experienced a tremendous expansion during the past few years and now ranks with the nation's leading states in the production of its products.

Within the past 18 months, the industry has doubled its production of broilers and, because of this expansion, will import a smaller and smaller volume of broilers in the years ahead.

Florida also has experienced a tremendous expansion in egg production and now exports more than 200,000 dozens of eggs each month. This increase in the production of broilers and eggs has resulted in noticeable savings to the housewife through reductions in the prices of these products.

I believe I would be correct in stating that, per pound of protein, eggs are the best food buy in the nation's markets today.

No other Florida agricultural industry has been able to produce meat at a better ratio than the average 2.1 to 2.2 pounds of feed needed to produce one pound of meat or the average four pounds of feed needed to produce one dozen eggs.

Because of this, egg prices have been reduced nearly 50 percent per dozen during the past 20 years, from a high of $1 per dozen during 1947-48 to a present average of 50 cents a dozen, retail.

What other, food commodity can you purchase now that is one-half the price it was 20 years ago?

Yes, I consider it paradoxical that, while the consumer reaps the benefits from an industry which has spent millions to modernize, to protect the public's health and welfare and to offer quality products at bargain-basement prices, the producers of that industry should be made to suffer economically.

One could almost say, and quite fairly, that the Florida producer of broilers and eggs is subsidizing the consumer. Like any other businessman, the commercial egg and poultry producer is in business to make a fair return on his investment.

But, soaring prices for land, labor, and feed combined with high interest rates to run his operation are placing many individual poultrymen in "the red."

The egg producer in Florida (and in other states) has no control over the prices of his commodities. These prices are set on the New York market.

Florida poultrymen export more than 10 million chicks and 2.5 million dozens of eggs each year to other markets, where these products are sold to chains, which handle their marketing.

Once these products are delivered to processors, on the state level, their disposition is out of the hands of the producer, who can only hope that market prices hold up and that he will receive a fair return for his products.

The Florida egg and poultry producer is by no means alone in his plight, for other Florida industries (citrus, for example) also are faced with problems of an abundance of production and sagging prices.

The beautiful climate of our state and the everwidening trend of greater commercialization of these industries have produced many of the dilemmas facing Florida agricultural industries.

Like their contemporaries in other agricultural industries, Florida poultrymen are earnestly seeking realistic solutions to their problems.

One of these is a sounder method for expansion. The industry, which anticipates a record production of 9.5 million laying hens by early 1968 (up from the 9,380,000 as of Oct. 1), wants to be certain it has a market for its chicks when hatched and for its eggs, before it proceeds with further expansion of production.

In the past, the industry has tended to increase production without sufficient assurance of profitable marketing.

Too, the average producer now realizes that in order to successfully market his products, the industry must seek to unite in a cooperative marketing effort that individual producers must stand together and work more closely in the attainment of their common goals.

The industry has taken a tentative step toward a united marketing effort and there has been some suggestion within the ranks of the Florida Poultry Federation of appointing a Federation committee to study the feasibility of requesting a federal marketing order or agreement for eggs.

This would have to be a national agreement and one which would be unique in the history of the nation's poultry industry.

Annual Permits For State Parks For 1968 Are Available For $7

The new "Florida State Parks Sunshine Ticket," an annual family auto entrance permit, is now on sale for 1968. State Parks Director Bill Miller announced today.

Miller said the orange vehicle decals admit all the persons in the holder's automobile to Florida's state parks. The permit is not good for entrance to park museums or for overnight camping.

The "Sunshine Ticket" sells for $7 and expires Dec. 31, 1968. They become effective immediately.

The decals can be purchased at any of the Florida State Parks that charge an entrance fee or from the Park Board offices, Collins Building, Tallahassee.

Miller said the annual permits, discontinued during 1967, are being reissued by popular demand.

Taxes Are Yielding More Profits Now

Florida's intake from the collection of sales and use taxes reached $24,282,249 during November, up 7.5% above collections for the same month in 1966, Comptroller Fred O. (Bud) Dickinson, Jr., reported today.

In addition, Dickinson reported that revenue from the three per cent tax has brought more than $123 million to the state in the first five months of the fiscal year, and 8% hike over revenue for the same period last year.

Dickinson likewise indicated that two related sources of revenue, the 5% wholesale sporting goods tax and the gaso line tax, are experiencing vigorous growth.

Profit downturn by the sporting goods tax has risen 28.3% in the first five months over collections for a similar period one year ago, while gaso line tax profit has increased 5.8% significantly bolstering the state bank balance.

Expect More Business, Use Advertising

The retail trade boom of 1967 will soar into 1968, extensions of private and government economists indicate.

Expectations of more business should be a prime factor in the planning of advertising budgets for the new year. The retailer who does not anticipate progress when allocating funds for advertising is likely to fall behind more dynamic competitors.

The first essential of effective advertising is a carefully planned budget. Too many retailers arbitrarily set aside a fixed sum from year to year to be spent haphazardly, without regard to seasonal demand or the effectiveness of various advertising media.

Poorly planned advertising may result in a shortage of funds when advertising is needed most. It may result in inconsistent and ineffective advertising. It may result in the expenditure of advertising funds for donations which do not contribute to sales.

Sloppy planning of advertising, or no planning at all, reflects a belief in a static economic situation. However, the retailer cannot live on a plateau. When consumer demand moves, the seller must also move or fall behind.

A good advertising budget uses past records as a guide only for evaluating anticipations of growth. It carefully spreads expenditures to reach the consumer during periods of peak demand. It firmly restricts advertising funds to legitimate advertising. Without regard to sentiment and measure, the good advertising budget insures that the most efficient advertising media are used.

COMMUNITY UTILIZATION OF POTENTIAL—"CUP"

Governor's "CUP" Program List Seven Steps To Area Development

This community development plan is composed of seven steps. A certificate will be awarded on completion of each step with a Cup from the Governor to be awarded on completion of Step 7.

Each community in the state has certain unique advantages or disadvantages which affect its consideration as a site for new industry. The responsibility we all face is utilizing the potential of each community to the maximum and this is what the program is about—Community Utilization of Potential.

The only way we know to properly develop our community is through an organized plan. This is what our Governor's Cup Program consists of—an organized plan for the development of each of the smaller communities in the state. This plan is tailored for communities up to about 35,000 people. Staff members of the Florida Development Commission will work with you in implementing this plan. Work can be retroactive.

Step 1. Successful economic development depends upon formulation of a reasonable and proper plan and completion of this plan. A sponsoring organization within the community must adopt such a plan, obtain community support and assistance, enlist manpower, assign goals, establish a timetable, evaluate programs and maintain direction. The application must be signed by all members of the governing board.

Step 2. Completion of acceptance of a community audit in a form approved by the Industrial Division, Florida Development Commission. Upon completion the audit must be approved by the Development Commission.

Step 3. Complete all three items.
A. Itemization of community defects as disclosed by the community audit.
B. Establishment of committees to correct these defects.
C. Establishment of goals and timetables for these committees.

Step 4. Complete any three in one calendar year.

A. Attendance at a Chamber of Commerce workshop and Governor's Award Luncheon.

B. Visit by a majority of the board of the sponsoring organization to the Development Commission offices in Tallahassee.

C. Presentation by a representative of the Development Commission of the GAN DO slide presentation to the membership of the sponsoring organization.

D. Presentation of a community forum in cooperation with a representative of the Development Commission to inform all members of the community and enlist their support.

Step 5. Complete any three in one calendar year.

A. Participation in a national trade or industrial show or cold solicitation program in conjunction with the Florida Development Commission.

B. Preparation and dissemination of an industrial brochure.

C. Preparation and dissemination of an industrial presentation to a select mailing list in a particular industrial category.

D. Cataloging and registering with the Development Commission raw land tracts, available industrial sites and available industrial buildings.

E. Completion of charter and bylaws of Community Development Corporation with capabilities of participation in SBA Section 502 loans.

Step 6. Complete all three items.

A. Formation of an Existing Industry Committee.

B. Survey all existing industries to determine their requirements for expansion and learn their problems.

C. Compile a report and form an action committee to help the existing industries work out their problems and accomplish their requirements for expansion.

Step 7. Announcement of a new industry as a direct result of the foregoing effort.

THE DEEP END

By TOM HERAN

Remembering . . .

I was talking to a friend the other day about Christmas memories and with tears in his eyes he related the following.

There was the time he woke up Christmas morning and found that his family had moved out during the night.

One Christmas he received twelve pairs of socks and no toys, of course at twenty four years of age he shouldn't have accepted toys.

The anger he felt when he caught his father eating the cookies that he had left for Santa.

His dislike for the commanding officer who wouldn't let him keep his little red wagon in the barracks.

The thrill he got when he played a camel in the nativity scene.

How angry his parents were when he used his chemistry set to dissolve his brother.

The horrible disappointment he felt after his sergeant told him the truth about Santa Claus.

As you can see my friend had many fond memories of Christmas and so do you and I, so let us enjoy this Christmas and the memories of those gone by, for those in the future are pure speculation.

Be elegant yet easy when entertaining with these Lemon Creme Tarts created in the Borden Kitchen.

(Makes 12-14 Tarts)

PASTRY CUPS:

- 2 sticks (10-oz. package)
- 2 tablespoons Real Lemon reconstituted lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons boiling water

In a small-size mixing bowl, crumble 1 stick pie crust mix. Add 1 tablespoon water and 1 tablespoon lemon juice. With a fork, mix until dough loses its stickiness. Stir until dough forms a ball and completely leaves side of bowl. On a floured board, with a floured rolling pin, roll dough to a 14-inch circle. With a round 2-inch cookie cutter cut 12 circles of dough. Repeat with remaining stick of pie crust mix. Press a circle of dough onto the bottom of a 2-1/2 inch diameter muffin cup or a 5-oz. custard cup. Press 2 circles of dough around sides of cup, edges overlapping, petal-fashion. With tines of a fork, pierce entire surface of pastry. Repeat with remaining circles. Bake in a hot (450° F.) oven 8 to 10 minutes, or until pastry is lightly browned. Remove from oven; brush with melted butter. Let cool thoroughly before removing from cups.

FILLING: In a medium-size mixing bowl combine 1-1/3 cups (15-oz.) can sweetened condensed milk and 1/2 cup Real Lemon reconstituted lemon juice. Stir until mixture thickens and is thoroughly blended. Whip 1/2 cup heavy cream; gently fold into lemon mixture. Divide filling in half; blend yellow food coloring into one half and red food coloring into the other. Spoon filling into cooled shells. Refrigerate 2 hours, or until filling sets. To serve, whip 1/2 cup heavy cream and garnish each tart.

Companies Reduce Plans for Growth

The pressure on manufacturing plants is continuing to decline and the number of companies planning to expand production facilities is dropping. This was disclosed recently in a survey conducted by the National Industrial Conference Board.

It is reported that fewer than a fourth of 425 of the nation's largest manufacturers now consider their plant-and-equipment facilities inadequate to meet the current rate of order bookings and customer inquiries.

Just a year ago the facilities of over half the companies responding to a similar survey were called unequal to the task of meeting demand.

In the middle of last year 52.2 per cent of these manufacturers' facilities were inadequate. Six months later the percentage dropped to 31.1 per cent. In July, 1967, it dropped further to 22.9 per cent.

FISHING LINES

By DICK WOLFF

FISHING: THE INTERNATIONAL LANGUAGE

They came from 106 nations — 12,000 strong — and they wanted to fish.

The scene was the XII World Boy Scout Jamboree at Farragut State Park, Idaho and you'll never forget the eager expression on the faces of that army of young anglers.

The boys met on the shores of Lake Pend Oreille last August for the first international scout gathering ever held in the United States. For ten days they exchanged handshakes, and souvenirs while participating in a wide variety of scouting activities including the first fishing program ever held at a Jamboree.

I can think of no more perfect spot to show-off the natural wonders of this nation than the ruggedly beautiful northwestern country. Located about 50 miles east of Spokane, Washington, Pend Oreille Lake has long been a favorite haunt of anglers in search of record-sized rainbow and humpback trout.

I traveled to the Jamboree with Bob Stankus and Ray Prescott of The Garco Corporation, sponsors of the fishing program. In the best tradition of scouting, Bob and Ray were fully prepared to teach the fine art of casting. Garco shipped in the lake-side 200 outfits, 20,000 worms, several thousand Abu Reiter wheel spinners, miles and miles of eight pound test Bonnylium filament line, and 15,000 brochures in three languages telling the scouts how to cast, catch, clean and cook the fish.

To reduce the odds of any scout leaving the docks without a catch, 20,000 hatchery rainbows were poured into Pend Oreille, and kept in the lake's Button Hook Bay area by a 600 foot nylon net.

The first group of 100 scouts were due on the docks at 5 a.m. the day the Jamboree opened. We hired the mile from campsite to the lake and got there about 4:30. The boys were waiting for us. This first group consisted of scouts from Iran, Nigeria and Canada. Half of them never fished and a like number didn't understand English. Turning those boys into instant anglers offered a challenge equal to any fish that ever took a line.

The non-anglers in the group were directed to the Abu Mattie offered a challenge equal to any fish that ever took a line. The non-anglers in the group were directed to the Abu Mattie offered a challenge equal to any fish that ever took a line.

Using words where they were understood and signs where there was a barrier, Bob and Ray, with the help of a dozen volunteer scout leaders, soon had all 100 scouts on the docks hitting the hungry young trout. You couldn't tell the veterans from the first-timers.

An Iranian scout had the first strike and yelled for help. Five of his countrymen came running and together reeled in a rainbow that weighed half a pound. The boys hurried from the dock headed for their campsite. They had breakfast. It didn't seem like quite enough fish for the five of them, but the bite or two they each had must have cleared for the next group.

After 40 minutes the docks were busy with the help of a dozen volunteers. That's the way it went from 5 a.m. to 8 p.m. every day of the Jamboree. Over 8,000 scouts fished and their eagerness to participate overcame the roadblocks of language and inexperience.

At the close of the Jamboree, Bob and Ray, two very tired men — distributed 100 outfits to representatives of each country attending. Despite the use and abuse the tackle received, they were functioning perfectly. One outfit did not work so well. A Thai scout, new to the thrill of fishing, hooked a small but game rainbow and had difficulty landing it. Watching the scout in from his hands, he jumped into the chilly lake to save his catch. The trout and rig rust somewhere in Pend Oreille. The scout is home in Bangkok with his first sale of "the one that got away."

Mock Turtles A La Mince Meat

Turn to turtles for a creative cookie idea. The Borden Kitchen did for this intriguing blend of the treasured good taste of mince meat and the convenience of sweetened condensed milk. Tuck whole blanched almonds "feet" and "head" into each cookie ball and ... the mock turtles are on the move.

Mince Meat-Coconut Turtles
(Makes about 24, 1-1/4 inch cookies)

1 (9-oz.) package None Such condensed mince meat	2-2/3 cups (two 3-1/2 oz. cans) flaked coconut
1-1/3 cups (one 15-oz. can) sweetened condensed milk	1 teaspoon vanilla extract
	3/4 teaspoon almond extract
	1 cup (one 4-1/2 oz. can) whole blanched almonds

In a medium-size bowl, break mince meat into small pieces with a fork. Add condensed milk; mix well. Blend in coconut and extracts. Chill in refrigerator for 3 hours. Shape into 1-1/2 inch balls. Place 2-3 inches apart on a well-buttered baking sheet. Place 5 whole almonds into base of each ball to form head and 4 feet of the tail. Bake in moderate (350°F) oven, about 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Remove very carefully from baking sheet. Cool.

We extend to you the best of season's greetings.
Of all the seasons and holidays of they ear, there is none that spreads joy and happiness throughout the world as the Christmas season.
Since the most precious gift of all times was given, that of the Master giving His Son, man has attempted to continue this spirit of giving throughout the age. This Christmas, what will you give to your friends? It is not always the gift that counts but the spirit in which it is given.
The best gift that you can give will cost you almost nothing.

As the wise men came from the East bearing gifts to the Holy Child so let us bear in our hearts that greatest gift of all—Love toward each other so that peace may prevail.

GREETINGS

from Bobcat Page Staffers

Give a friendly smile, a gracious hello, a soft answer in the heat of anger, a word of kindness, praise instead of ridicule, or just lend a helping hand to someone. If this type of spirit can prevail during this holiday season, why not let it continue throughout the coming year.
Give to the world the best that you have and the best will come back to you.
May the joys of this holiday season follow you throughout the coming year, and may God grant his richest blessings upon you.

Just want to say, folks, it's that time of year
For greeting good friends and wishing them cheer.
May your holiday season be merry and bright
May your fondest plans turn out just right!
Yes, here's to the season of carols and holly
Here's to a Yuletide that's prosperous and jolly!

Juveniles Get Special Care

A child who breaks the law is a juvenile delinquent, not a criminal. In the United States, he is tried in special courts where every effort is made to help keep him from breaking more laws, rather than to punish him for his crime.

Almost any kind of action or behavior on the part of a child which endangers his well-being may be considered juvenile delinquency. In New York, the law says that a child who begs for money in public, associates with immoral persons or visits illegal places is a delinquent. The definition varies in different states. In dictation over children only until some states juvenile courts have jurisdiction over children only until they reach the age of 16. But in most states, the age limit is 18.

The general causes of juvenile delinquency are found in the social conditions of the time. Certain trends in everyday life have made youth feel insecure, and unsure of what is good conduct and what is bad. Motion pictures, radio, television, and comic strips often stress the romantic thrills of excitement and crime. Sometimes there is a basic weakness in the child himself. As a rule, this weakness shows up because of trouble in the child's surroundings.

Lake Shore Sports Notes

The Lake Shore Junior High Bobcats "C" team scored 40 points to defeat the Pahokee Junior High Blue Devils 40 to 13.

This was their second victory of the season. High point man was Larry Styles who shot 17 points.

The Junior High Bobcats "D" team upset the Pahokee Junior High Blue Devils by a score of 72 to 17. James Hart led the scoring with 12 points.

The Lake Shore Junior High Bobcats played Howell Watkins Junior High in Palm Beach Gardens.

The Lake Shore Junior High "C" team scored a 30 to 25 victory.

Leading scorers were Larry Styles 12 points and Moses Mitchell 10.

That same evening the Howell Watkins Junior High "D" team defeated the Lake Shore Junior High Bobcats by a score of 28 to 21. Leading scorers for LS were Charlie Walker 5, Charles Spencer 6 and Marvin Davis 8.

Government studies have thrown light on the whole question of juvenile delinquency. Even the modern reformatory is a far less harmful place than prison. The probation officer studies the history and surroundings of the child. The social workers of the juvenile courts and of other social

Andy Blumbert Visited Campus

Lake Shore High was honored to have Andy Blumbert, a student of Germany on campus.

Andy visited many classes while on campus, discussing the life and customs of the German people.

He said he was returning home in two weeks to practice medicine.

Andy also said he enjoyed his visit on campus. "As a matter of fact, I enjoyed myself tremendously while being in the United States."

agencies try to give the child a normal life.

Many agencies and organizations are trying to prevent juvenile delinquency before it occurs. Special stress is being placed on providing playgrounds and programs of recreation for youth.

Because when a child is of a happy life with love and understanding, usually he sees no room for delinquency.

Communicate With Feeling

Communications are the basic foundations of life. Unless there were some means of communications, life would become very dull and uninteresting. Communications in the family is with the heart as well as the ear.

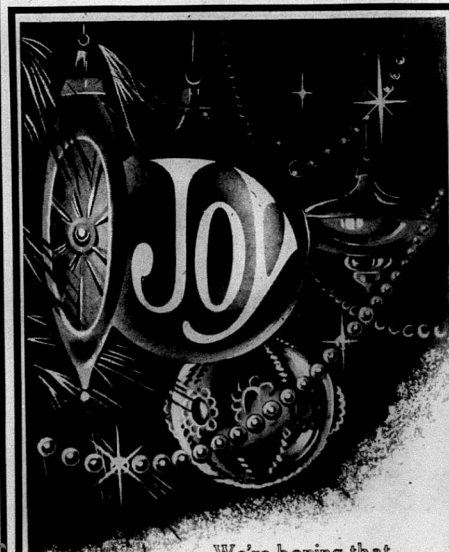

The basic lines of communication in the family are:

1. Parents must be able to communicate with each other.
2. Parents must be able to communicate with children.
3. Children must be able to communicate with parents.
4. Children must be able to communicate with children.

In order to build a strong line of communication in the family, remember to plan together, work together, create together and keep in touch.

The world would be a better place to live and we would become better people to live in it, if we would establish in our family the kind of communication Carl Rogers had in mind when he stated "To understand another person's thoughts and feelings thoroughly with the meaning he has in mind and person in return." This is one of the rewarding experiences of human life and all too rare.
